Family TIES is a project of the Federation for Children with Special Needs, in collaboration with and funded by the MA Department of Public Health, Bureau of Family Health & Nutrition, Division for Children and Youth with Special Health Needs.
Family TIES of Massachusetts provides information and training for families of children with special health needs or disability and their professional partners. We are a primary source for information about Early Intervention (EI) and maintain a complete listing of EI programs in MA. Driven and staffed by parents of children with special needs, we offer a unique type of emotional and practical support to families with similar life experiences.

OUR STAFF
The Parent-to-Parent Coordinator, Regional Coordinators and Project Director of Family TIES are all parents of children with special health needs. Staff is located at the Massachusetts Department of Public Health (DPH) Regional Offices. For more information call your Regional Coordinator or the TOLL-FREE LINE: 800-905-TIES (8437).

This is the 21st edition of the Directory of Resources.* Family TIES of Massachusetts answers more than 10,000 calls a year from parents and professionals seeking information and services for children and youth with special needs. As parents of children with complex medical needs and other disabilities, we know finding information, services and support can be difficult and emotionally challenging. We hope the information in this directory makes the task easier for families.

The Directory is published annually. A printable version of the directory is available on our website, www.massfamilyties.org. The public is welcome to print and share single or multiple pages of the directory.

We love finding new resources and ways to support families. We continue to receive kind comments from people who see this book as an important resource. Thank you and please continue to call us with your suggestions and new resources. Or, use the directory Resource Entry Form at the back of the book. Email the completed form to info@fcsn.org or fax to 617-241-0330.

Many people helped develop the directory. We thank you all including our funding agency, the Massachusetts Department of Public Health, for continuing to support the work of Family TIES on behalf of families of children and youth with special health needs. And, a special thank you to Wanda Morton and Erin Anguish at the Federation for Children with Special Needs for their hard work.

TIPS FOR USING THE DIRECTORY

The directory is a great starting point to look for information and resources! Resources are organized into two sections: Resources by Topic and A-Z Resources. In the A-Z Resources section of the book, each resource has a brief description of the available supports, contact information, the regions it serves, and a category code. All resources are assigned to one or more categories. The categories refer to the topic of the information or type of service provided.

When you know the name of the agency, organization or program, look for it in the A-Z Resources section of the book. If you find the resource you were looking for, be sure to visit their website for specific or additional information. The information in this directory is current through January 2018. The Resources by Topic section is helpful when you know the kind of resource or program you need. The resources in the main categories are listed by the regions served:

The Community Support and Inclusion category and Specific Conditions and Disabilities category are broad. In these main categories, the resources are sorted by specific topics and region. The following page has a list of the topics included in these categories.

Although there are many resources listed in this directory, we could not possibly list all of the resources available. If you do not find what you need, please call us! Your Regional Coordinator may know about resources in your community.

EARLY INTERVENTION SERVICES – FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

Massachusetts Early Intervention (EI) is a program for infants and toddlers, birth to the third birthday, who have a developmental delay or are at risk of a developmental delay. Early Intervention provides family-centered services to support the development of eligible children.

EI helps the child:

• Develop positive social-emotional skills
• Gain knowledge and skills
• Use appropriate behaviors to meet their needs and to develop independence

EI helps families:

• Know their rights
• Communicate their child’s needs
• Help their children develop and learn

Who is eligible for EI?

Any Massachusetts family with a child under three years of age may be eligible for EI services if the child:

• Is not reaching age-appropriate milestones in one or more areas of development
• Is diagnosed with certain conditions that may result in a developmental delay
• Has a medical or social history which may put the child at risk for a developmental delay

Who pays for EI?

Most health insurances cover EI services. There are no co-payments or deductibles or other costs to the family. The Massachusetts Department of Public Health, MassHealth and private health insurance cover EI services.

How is a referral made?

The process is simple. Anyone can make a referral to an Early Intervention Program. To find a certified Early Intervention program, call 800-905-(8437) or visit the Family TIES website at www.massfamilyties.org. Referrals are made directly to the program. There are 60 EI programs in Massachusetts covering the whole state. A prescription or insurance referral from a health care provider is not needed.

What happens after the referral is made?

An EI team will complete an evaluation to determine eligibility. The evaluation looks at all areas of a child’s development. If the child is eligible, a service plan will be created with the family. An important principle of EI is to establish a partnership with the family and caregivers of the child. The service plan outlines the early intervention outcomes and services. Services may be provided by a developmental specialist, physical therapist, speech-language pathologist, psychologist, occupational therapist, social worker, nurse, and other specialty service providers. A service coordinator from the EI program will ensure that the family’s priorities, needs and concerns are addressed.
Where and how are services provided?
Infants and toddlers develop and learn through meaningful experiences and interactions in familiar places. EI services may be provided at home, in early care and education programs, playgroups, or within the family’s community. Children benefit the most when the family and caregivers take part in home visit activities.

Where and how are services provided?
Infants and toddlers develop and learn through meaningful everyday experiences and interactions in familiar places. This may mean that services are provided at home, in early care and education programs, playgroups, or within the family’s community. Services work best when families and caregivers participate in home visit activities.

The Early Intervention process from the initial contact through transition out of the program, is collaborative, individualized and reflects the child’s and family’s priorities, learning styles, culture and community.

Early Intervention Services (EI)
Early Intervention in Massachusetts is a statewide, integrated developmental service available to the families of children from birth up to the third birthday, for whom there are developmental concerns due to identified disabilities, or whose typical development is at risk due to certain birth or environmental circumstances.

Early Intervention programs provide comprehensive, integrated services, utilizing a family-centered approach to facilitate the developmental progress of eligible children. Early Intervention services are designed to meet the developmental needs of each child and the needs of the family related to enhancing the child’s development.

Early Intervention Partnerships Program (EIPP)
The Early Intervention Partnerships Program (EIPP) within the Division for Pregnancy, Infancy and Early Childhood (PIE) is a home visiting program that serves women with identified maternal or infant risk factors across the state. The purpose of EIPP is early identification of maternal and infant risk; and linkage of families to services to prevent or reduce poor health and/or developmental outcomes. EIPP is coordinated by an existing Early Intervention Program. There are seven sites in Massachusetts that serve families during the perinatal period. They offer the necessary supports to promote maternal health and optimal post-pregnancy outcomes as well as a focus on infant growth and development through the first year of life.

Regional Consultation Program (RCP)
The Regional Consultation Programs provide consultation, training and/or direct services to young children with complex medical/health needs, enrolled in EI or other community programs and their families. RCP’s primary goals are to:

- Provide consultation to children and families and community programs where young children typically access services
- Assist EI programs to meet the complex medical needs of eligible children
- Build community capacity by expanding skills and knowledge of community providers to ensure the inclusion of young children with complex care requirements, and RCP services are provided regionally in conjunction with early intervention programs

Contact the RCP that serves your EI region for more information.

Growth and Nutrition Program
The Growth and Nutrition Program (GNP) under the Nutrition Division in the Bureau of Family Health & Nutrition (BFHN) is a 30 year old Program established by the Massachusetts Legislature to address the problem of under-nutrition among young children in the Commonwealth. There are many causes of growth deficiency including medical, developmental, nutritional, and psychological reasons and the most effective treatment involves a multidisciplinary team of experts. All Massachusetts children from birth to six years of age with declining growth can be referred for evaluation and treatment by their primary care providers to these clinics, regardless of the family’s income.

Universal Newborn Hearing Screening Program
Babies born in Massachusetts are screened for hearing loss before they leave the hospital. Our program contacts families whose infant did not pass and those infants that may have been missed. We help make follow-up appointments for further testing and are available to pay for the screening and the hearing test after any available insurance. Families whose infant has a hearing loss also receive parent-to-parent support and help with enrollment into Early Intervention. The Program also provides a variety of networking and support opportunities for families of older children with hearing loss.
